PEACE TREATY IS SIGNED; BIG WAR OFFICIALLY ENDS

GERMANY CAPITULATED IN ROOM WHICH WITNESSED ARROGANCE OF BISMARCK

Representatives of German Republic Meekly Accept Terms on Fifth Anniversary of Assassination of Austrian Archduke Francis Ferdinand and Which Furnished Excuse For Great Conflict—Ends Germany as World Power.

By JOHN EDWIN NEVIN.

Versailles, June 28.—Germany capitulated today. At a small table in the center of the great Hall of Mirrors, the chief room of the palace here, representatives of the German republic meekly accepted the peace terms which practically ends Germany as a world power at least for many years. It was this same room which witnessed the arrogance of Bismarck and von Moltke, and today the representatives of the defeated German empire accepted the fate which resulted from the junkers' dream of world dictatorship.

It is five years ago that the plotted assassination of the Austrian Archduke Francis Ferdinand furnished the excuse Germany sought for starting the world conflict. Sarajevo's tragedy has made the great central empires supplicants.

The Germans were first to affix their signatures to the treaty. It had previously been planned to have the Germans sign last, but this procedure was changed at the last moment.

Dr. Mueller was the first to attach his signature to the treaty, signing at 3:12. Dr. Bell signed next.

President Wilson was the first to sign following the Germans. The rest of the American delegation affixed their signatures below the president's.

Premier Lloyd George was the next to sign the momentous document. The remainder of the British delegation followed him.

The "Tiger" of France, Premier Clemenceau, signed his name to the treaty at exactly 3:23 p. m.

General Smuts signed the treaty on behalf of British South Africa, but at the same time handed out a statement protesting against the punishment of the kaiser and other features of the treaty.

The signing of the treaty was completed at 3:50 p. m., it having taken approximately 40 minutes for the proceedings. The German delegates immediately left.

Marshal Foch Present

The situation in Versailles today is the fulfillment of the greatest dream in modern history. Gathered around the historic hall were the representatives of every great nation in the world. Only the smaller neutral nations were missing. The great table horseshoe held the representatives of every power which banded together to stamp out militarism and absolutism from the earth.

Across the room and just in front of the section reserved for the guests the German delegates were seated. The contrast was very sharp. The old Prussian arrogance was not revealed by the members of the German cabinet, but was assumed the duty of salvaging what was left of their country.

The seating arrangement of the delegates was as follows: On President Wilson's side of the table—Secretary Lansing, Col. House, Henry White, General Bliss and after them the French, Italian, Belgian and Greek delegates. Swinging around the horseshoe were the Polish, Portuguese, Roumanian, Czech-Slovakian, Siamese, Cuban and Chinese delegates. At the left of President Wilson were the other representatives of Britain and her dominions and the Japanese. Swinging around the corner were the representatives of Germany, Brazil, Bolivia, Uruguay, Peru, Panama, Nicaragua, Liberia, Honduras, Haiti, Guatemala and Ecuador.

Marshal Foch was seated among the French delegates. He was not a peace plenipotentiary and did not sign the great document.

Of the Italian delegates only three were present—Baron Sonnino, M. Imperiali and Crespi. The others had not arrived at a late hour.

Paris was en fête for the occasion. A holiday was proclaimed throughout. From every building hung the flags of the allied nations.

FORMER KAISER WILL END LIFE RATHER THAN GO TO JAIL

Decision of Father Announced By Ex-Crown Prince.

FREDERICK IN HOLLAND

Ex-Emperor's Son Says He Will Return to Germany.

London, June 28.—The kaiser will kill himself rather than to submit to the indignity of trial by his enemies, according to his son, the ex-crown prince, in an interview with the Daily Express correspondent at Wieringen.

The prince made this declaration after a conference with his father, which he had this week. It was to the castle where the ex-kaiser is interned that he had gone and not to Germany, the crown prince said. He seemed to enjoy the excitement caused by his temporary absence from the island.

"The kaiser will never submit to trial. He will die first," declared Frederick Wilhelm.

"I am going to Germany myself as soon as peace is formally declared. I will go to Silesia."

The former crown prince refused to discuss the war. He declared, however, that East Prussians and Silesians will never accept Polish rule. Great trouble is ahead for the league of nations, he thought.

"I was visiting my father when it was reported I was in Germany," concludes the interview.

FUND TO FIGHT REDS

Washington, June 28.—The government was provided today with financial means with which to deal with the Bolshevik and anarchist menace in the United States when the senate adopted provisions in the sundry civil bill for $2,000,000 for the "detection and prosecution of crimes against the United States, $500,000 for the deportation of aliens and $450,000 for the naturalization service of the department of labor, a total of $2,750,000.

But Two Days' Leave.

The D. E. McNicol pottery will be able only two days in connection with the July 4th celebration. It will be closed Friday and Saturday, but will resume operations Monday in all departments, according to announcement today.

Tarnopol and Brody Captured.

London, June 28.—Ukrainians have captured Tarnopol and Brody and the Poles are retreating, according to a Copenhagen dispatch today.

TO ENFORCE MEASURE

Washington, June 28.—War-time prohibition will be enforced after July 1, regardless of whether congress enacts enforcement legislation by that time—unless the president intervenes with a proclamation calling off such prohibition—Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, announced this afternoon after conferring with dry members of congress.

G. W. ALLISON DROWNS SELF

Dead Body of East Liverpool Grocer Found In River.

The body of G. W. Allison, aged about 55, of the Allison & Conant grocery firm, West Sixth street, East Liverpool, was found lying face downward in the Ohio river just off Third street, Chester, shortly after 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

A small boy who was rowing in the river discovered the body which had been caught against some bushes, but a short distance from shore. The body was not deep where the body was found.

According to Chester authorities he is believed to have committed suicide. Members of the family said he left home at 8:15 o'clock this morning to visit an up-town business house. He complained that he was too ill to work.

The body was removed to the Arner & Bower morgue, where an inquest will be held.

Besides his widow, Mr. Allison leaves four sons, Harold, Leland, Paul and Victor.

URGES SELF-GOVERNMENT

London, June 28.—The Times came out today in advocacy of Irish self-government.

Treaty, While Severe Because of Wrongs Done By Hun, Imposes Nothing Germany Cannot Do.

Washington, June 28.—The treaty of peace signed today, while severe because of the great wrongs done by Germany, "imposes nothing that Germany cannot do and ends once and for all an old and intolerable order," President Wilson said in a cabled message to the white house today.

Addressed to "My Fellow Countrymen" the message was as follows:

"The treaty of peace has been signed. It is ratified and acted upon in full and sincere execution of its terms. It will furnish the charter for a new order of affairs in the world. It is a severe treaty in the duties and penalties it imposes upon Germany, but is severe only because great wrongs done by Germany are to be righted and repaired; it imposes nothing that Germany cannot do; and she can regain her rightful standing in the world by the prompt and honorable fulfillment of its terms."

"And it is much more than a treaty of peace with Germany. It liberates great people who have never before been able to find the way to liberty. It ends, once for all, an old and intolerable order under which small groups of selfish men could use the peoples of great empires to serve their own ambition for power and dominion. It associates the free governments of the world in a permanent league in which they are pledged to use their united power to maintain peace by maintaining right and justice. It makes international law a reality supported by imperative sanctions. It does away with the right of conquest and rejects the old order under which backward nations—populations which have not yet come to political consciousness—

BULLETIN

Washington, June 28.— President Wilson will leave Paris for Brest at 9:30 o'clock tonight, Paris time, he notified Secretary Tumulty by cable today.

The president also notified Tumulty that on the request of a citizens' committee, he had consented to be accorded "an unofficial greeting" upon his arrival in New York.

"All well," the president added.

By JOHN EDWIN NEVIN.
Versailles, June 28.—The great world war officially came to an end at 3:50 o'clock this afternoon. At that minute the signing of the peace treaty was announced as complete by Premier Clemenceau of France.

The Germans were the first to affix their names to the document which officially brought peace again to the world.

Premier Clemenceau, after briefly stating that the treaty about to be signed was the same as that previously handed the Germans, invited the German delegates to come forward and sign.

Only two incidents marred the proceedings. General Smuts of the South African delegation, handed in a written protest when he affixed his name to the document. He protested against the part of the treaty calling for the punishment of the kaiser and also some other features.

The Chinese delegation was not present and no one signed the treaty for that country. The delegation sent word that it would not sign the treaty. An official statement was promised later in the day.

Premier Clemenceau brought the proceedings to a close with the following announcement:

"The conditions of peace are now an accomplished fact."

Immediately after Premier Clemenceau announced that the signing of the treaty was complete the German delegates left the building. It was announced that they would return at once to Berlin.

"THIRD DEGREE" COMING TO THE AMERICAN

If you were the castoff bride of a youth whose millionaire parents had sworn to destroy you would you admit an "affair" of which you were innocent to spare the mother of your husband the humiliation of an exposure. Annie Sands (Alice Joyce) faces this problem and how she meets it is one of the great dramatic scenes in "The Third Degree," Vita Graph's picturization of the famous Charles Klein stage success which will be seen in the American theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday. Annie already has saved the youth who married her when a waitress in a college restaurant, of a murder of which he was innocent, but to which he was forced to plead guilty through the torture of the police third degree. Miss Joyce has one of her strongest roles as star in the great drama which was directed by Tom Terriss.

CITY EMPLOYEES SEEK INCREASE

City council, at its next meeting Tuesday evening will receive a petition signed by members of the police and fire departments of the city asking for substantial wage increases.

The petition states that the members of the fire and police departments are not receiving any more now than mere living wages. An increase of $15 per month is asked by each fireman and patrolman.

At the present time Chief of Police John Reil receives a monthly salary of $110, an increase making it $125; other members of the police force are paid as follows: J. L. McDevitt, $100 per month; C. A. Baker, $95 per month; W. E. Phillips, $95 per month; A. L. Newton, $100 per month. A. W. Phillips, chief of the fire department, receives a salary of $100 per month. Fireman Hurd, the other paid member of the local fire department, resigned his position Thursday.

Following is the petition prepared by the firemen and patrolmen which will be presented to council:

"Honorable city council:

"We, the undersigned members of the Wellsville police and fire departments, do hereby petition your honorable body for an increase in salaries to take effect at the earliest time possible, following the passing of the necessary legislation.

"We would suggest that an increase of $15 per month for each man be granted as the general high cost of living is such that it is hard for us under the present wage to obtain anything more than just a living.

Signed)

PEGGY HYLAND HERE IN STORY OF THE SEA

Peggy Hyland in a sea story—and an exciting sea story it is, according to report. Under the title of "Miss Adventure," it will be shown at the New Diamond theatre next Monday and Tuesday. The story is one that should give ample room for all the dainty and sprightly acting of which Miss Hyland is capable.

The heroine's father is killed by a mutinous crew and she is adopted by an old sea captain. The pranks she plays as she grows up, and her un-failing good nature make her beloved by all in the fishing village where she lives. But a nephew of the captain, fearing she will get the captain's fortune, has her kidnapped, and soon Peggy finds herself on a desert island. But the cabin boy of the ship on which her father was killed now grown to manhood, is searching for her, and when he finds her he tells her she is heiress to a great fortune. When they get back to the mainland she rewards him with her love.

Exhausted and bleeding, Tarzan staggers away from the glade of death, and is on the point of sinking down into the thick jungle grass there to become a victim of the fierce savage black or beast of prey that comes that way, when he is startled

CHARLES RAY AT THE STRAND MONDAY

Charles Ray, the Thomas H. Ince Paramount star, appears in a decidedly new type of character in his new photoplay "Greatest Lightning" which will be presented at the Strand theatre Monday and Tuesday.

We have seen Mr. Ray in past performances as the baseball player, the hired man, the young city sport, the spoiled mother's boy and the like, but no type of the past gives him such opportunity for his subtle comedy as does the small town inventor character he portrays with admirable taste in "Greatest Lightning."

The play derives its name from a racing automobile the product of the young inventor's genius, which fails to work until the crucial moment in the story. Then it is the speed demon that runs down the villain.

Mr. Ray is surrounded by a capable cast, including Wanda Hawley, Robert McKim, Willis Marks and others. The story was written by Julien Josephson and directed by Jerome Storm, under the supervision of Thos. H. Ince.

Was Condition of Indiana Lady Before Beginning to Take Card-u-i, the Woman's Tonic.

Kokomo, Ind.—Mrs. H. Hankemeier, of this town, says: "I look so well, and am so well, that it does not seem as if I ever needed Cardui. But I was not always this way. . . . I think I have taken a dozen bottles . . . before my little girl came."

I was feeling dreadfully bad, had headache, backache, sick at my stomach, no energy . . . I was very irritable, too, and nervous.

I began taking Cardui about 6 months before my baby came. As a result all those bad feelings left me, and I just felt grand, just as if nothing at all was the matter, and when the end came I was hardly sick at all.

Since that I have never taken Cardui at all. . . . It has done me good, and I know it will help others, if they will only try it."

Many women have written grateful letters like the above, telling of the good that Cardui has done them. Why should it not help you, too? If you suffer from any of the ailments so common to women, and feel the need of a safe, reliable, strengthening tonic, we urge you to begin today and give Cardui a fair trial. One Million Seven Hundred Thousand persons under 25 years of age in Ohio were not in Bible School two years ago. How many of these live in East Liverpool? Are you doing your part to improve Ohio's record.

Bible School as exemplified in the Loyal Sons and Daughters class of the First Church of Christ is very helpful and instructive to young people. 9:30 A. M. Sunday.

A REWARD FOR LOYALTY.

If a proposal of the London Press club is accepted, the newspapers of England will erect a memorial to James Harvey Dale, a young reporter who was killed in London last week while "covering" an assignment for his paper, the Southeastern Herald.

Despite his injuries, which physicians at once pronounced as fatal, this brave lad, who had been run down by a lorry, did not forget a characteristic of the newspaperman—loyalty to his paper. Realizing the importance of his assignment, he took his "copy" from his pocket and handed it to a man, telling him the address of the newspaper office.

And Dale's loyalty is not uncommon to thousands of newspapermen not only in Europe, but in all countries of the world. Unmindful of the difficulty of any assignment, they will overcome every possible handicap to score a "scoop," the term given in newspaper vernacular to an exclusive story. And the satisfaction of having "made good" is their reward.

Like Dale, most newspapermen keep off the front pages until their death is recorded. They remain in the background during life, for they are too busy blowing other people's horns to blow their own.

NOW FOR THE FLU GERM.

The influenza is happily waning. But it is just as well not to rejoice unduly. It may come back, with devastating effect.

One of the most discouraging things about this disease is that, unlike most epidemics, it does not confer immunity. Its victims may catch it again within a few months. For all anybody knows, they may get it over and over, until it "gets" them. And like individuals, whole communities and nations are subject to recurrent attacks.

It is estimated that this baffling plague took 400,000 American lives last fall and winter, and as a result of death and disability cost the nation more than $2,000,000,000. We do not want that to happen again next winter or any subsequent winter.

There is much force, then, in the appeal made by Secretary Lane for a congressional appropriation to pay the cost of finding out exactly what this enemy is, and conquering it.

"If there is an insect that can lie dormant 17 years," he argues, "it is equally possible that there is a bacillus that may lie dormant through a certain period, becoming active at stated intervals and producing the periodic waves that mark certain diseases. The bacillus of influenza should be isolated and identified, so that we may be able to cope with it in future appearances.

Once the bacillus is found, medical men can evolve some way to kill it or make it drunk so it won't work. That has been found to be the most effective method of rendering many germs inactive."

We made the flu—the war germs of the human race—inactive, at a huge cost. It is just as necessary to subdue the "flu" germs. And by setting to work the ablest medical scientists in the country, with the best facilities obtainable, it can probably be accomplished for a mere fraction of 1 per cent of what this enemy has cost us during the past year.

THE NEIGHBORS.

"Give a thought to your neighbors," urges the United Neighborhood Houses Association of New York.

It is in the hot weather that uncomfortable and unsanitary living quarters are hardest to endure, and that they take their heaviest toll in illness and death, especially of small children.

Those who live in comfortable houses, who have access to the country or have country homes, can do no kinder thing than to share some of this comfort with those less fortunate than themselves. Where it is possible to extend the hospitality of one's own home, generous support of institutions offering out-of-door life for the poor is the next best thing.

A glimpse of trees to eyes half-blinded with the glare of pavements, the soft grass for feet half-blistered from the hot sidewalks, cool country air for lungs half-choked with the stifling air of town, pale children growing ruddy and strong as they romp in the meadows or on the shore, what better or more generous thing could anybody do than to provide the means for such blessings as these?

The Danish prince Aage, visiting in America, and wanting to say something especially polite of Americans, sums up his sentiments as follows: "You're so damn nice!" That may not be princely elegance, but it stands the test of real eloquence. We "get" him perfectly.

Information comes from Mexico that "the attitude of General Villa toward the United States was one of sincere friendship," though Villa's sensitive soul was hurt by the action of the American troops who drove him out of Juarez. God deliver Uncle Sam from his Greaser friends!

There may be something to Congressman Berger's complaint that his constituents have been deprived of their constitutional right to representation. A community that elects a man like Berger probably deserves to be represented by a man like Berger.

If the government keeps on building ships at the present rate, there will soon be one apiece, and we can use them for houseboats, or spend our summers going abroad, every family in its own ship.

Dr. Pessoa, president-elect of Brazil, is fortunately finding North Americans not so black as they're painted by German-inspired Brazilian journalists.

Death's Sting has been located—no further need to inquire. Coffins are classed as jewelry and subject to the luxury tax, according to recent dispatches.

Poor old Juarez has been shot up again. Now don't ask, "What is Juarez?"

The Reds are beginning to feel blue.

It can be the greatest Fourth ever, and still be safe and sensible.

NEW YORK LETTER

By O. O. McIntyre.

New York, June 23.—A day around the New York piers these days gives a colorful picture of families trickling back to Sunny It, Spain and other foreign countries. Down by the old Coenties Slip the other day I saw polygot group, with all their earthly possessions at their side, getting ready to sail for their native land.

Despite the difficulties and delays in obtaining passports, the sailings from the port of New York alone average about 1,000 weekly. All of them say they are returning because of prohibition. In a speech at the Waldorf the other day a prominent banker said:

"With the going of these foreign-tongued speaking individuals American banking and business institutions will suffer a big loss. It means the withdrawal of bank and savings accounts estimated as high as six billion dollars."

Most of the workers, now leaving, are from Pennsylvania. Their chief objection to prohibition is that they will not be able to get beer. They may be seen around the docks sitting on the curb with a loaf of bread in one hand and a bucket of beer at their side—taking the big meal of the day at noon.

Many of these foreigners are men of genius, blown by the winds of chance. They look upon America and its people kindly. Many of them are painters of no mean ability and yet they have dug ditches and lived in shanties that they might return to their native country and pursue art without starving.

The cheap photographer reaps a harvest around the piers. To have a cheap picture taken is the final gay fling before the boat pulls out for home. The women are young in years but old and drawn in looks. They wear shawls and old wrappers. And they look out upon the new world dumbly—for all the world like cattle.

The first knowledge of Bobby Ashe came when an infant's cry was heard in an ash can in New York. He reposed on cinders and being lifted out and given ablutions he was none the worse. Bobby found refuge in a hospital, was named Bobby in honor of the ash can where the stork dropped him. A childless couple came and arranged a legal adoption and Bobby entered into purple living. A special nurse was his devoted slave. From a thin, enameled child he bloomed into a rosy cheeked cherub. He had a motor car for outings and this summer he was to have a cottage far out on a rock by the sea. His foster parents were Christian Scientists. A statute forbids an institution to surrender a founding to a guardianship not of the religion there is evidence the child is born into. They found a card signed by a policeman attesting Bobby was of Catholic parentage. So back he went to the hospital. In this little chronicle is a cross section of the old and the new.

Just the other day old friends of Marie Dressler learned her real name. She would never tell it. But a dramatic critic came to New York and recalled having seen Miss Dressler when she came down from Canada. "Oh so many years ago. Her name then was Lella Koerber."

A New York young man unknown in society married a society girl the other week. A reporter for an evening paper told of visiting them in their suite the next day at noon. He told of the bridegroom meeting him at the door in pajamas and after he entered the room he saw empty champagne bottles and cigarette stubs all about the room. The paper printed the story as he wrote it. Everybody who read it thought it in poor taste. The city editor, managing editor and reporter lost their jobs.

Centenary Celebration Columbus

Described by William C. Freeman, associated with Paul Bloch, Inc., New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston.

Two little boys were playing together when one asked the other who discovered America. His companion answered "Ohio."

The other said: "That isn't the right answer." "Sure, it is," the other boy persisted.

"No, you're wrong, Columbus discovered America."

The first little fellow who insisted that "Ohio" discovered America, then said, "Columbus was his first name."

COLUMBUS, OHIO, at the present moment seems to have discovered many worlds, judging from the exhibits that are displayed at the Centenary Celebration.

It is altogether fitting that the word "Columbus" is attached to this exposition, because it is in Columbus, Ohio, that things are shown which mark the great progress of the world since the days when Columbus discovered this wonderful country—the one country in all the world that is able to do and is glad to do more for all of the other countries of the world than any other single nation.

You know this great country of ours represents in a way all of the peoples of the world, because we have opened our doors wide to receive all who come here and share in the advantages that accrue to American citizenship.

At the Centenary Celebration at Columbus you will find groups of people representing most of the countries of the world.

You will be amazed and delighted to see the progress they have made.

They participate in the great variety of exhibits and entertainments at the Centenary Celebration.

You will find in the Coliseum a great pipe-organ, played by the master organist of America.

You will find him assisted in rendering his remarkable musical program by Cincinnati's famous symphony orchestra, consisting of 75 pieces.

Walking through the Fair Grounds, you will hear a wonderful band composed entirely of colored boys—100 of them. You will hear inspiring concerts by a remarkable trombone chorus.

You will hear in nooks and corners, throughout the Fair Grounds, 16 negro quartets singing famous Southern lullabies and melodies.

You will see every afternoon a wonderful parade, parallel in interest any Barnum and Bailey parade you ever saw, and consisting of representatives of a great many nationalities together with elephants and camels, etc.

When you want to sit down and rest for a while you may go into the big moving picture house without cost, where the great moving picture companies of America are daily exhibiting their wonderful productions gratuitously.

These are only a few of the things that are provided by the

HUN BAYONET SAVED YANKEE

A bayonet from a Hun's rifle picked up on a French battle field as a souvenir by Lewis Halstead, former Chester boy, now visiting here, saved his life when he was attacked by a German who hid in an apparently abandoned dug out.

Halstead had gone into the dug out for investigation and had just entered the place when the Hun pounced upon him. Halstead was carrying the souvenir in his hand and plunged the bayonet through the German, killing him.

On another occasion Halstead was the target for two Hun machine guns and sought refuge behind a tree. He succeeded in silencing one gun and cannot explain how the gunner of the other was killed unless some of Halstead's friends saw his predicament.

Halstead is now the guest of his brother, James Halstead of Fairview road, and will soon return to his home in Roanoke, Va.

NEW STREET HAT WHICH MAKES MILADY WALK DEMURELY "WITH EYES CAST DOWN"

As everybody can plainly see there is something shady about the new turn which millinery styles have taken. The Mizi sailors which were popular in the spring or the Watteau hats of long ago were undoubtedly the inspiration for this novel hat, with its exaggerated droop. It is black lisere straw trimmed with black velvet ribbon and uncured ostrich plumes. A front view shows nothing but hat brim and the curve of a pretty chin.

NEGRO IS HELD FOR ROBBERIES

Three residents of Midland identified as their property articles found in possession of John Fay, aged 51, a negro of Norristown, Pa., who was held for investigation by the Beaver county grand jury without bond when arraigned Friday evening before a magistrate in Midland.

Fay, who is suspected of having burglarized a dozen homes in Midland, is said to have been discovered at 5 o'clock Friday morning by Otto Eichle of Ohio avenue, Midland, hiding behind a kitchen door in the Eichle home. A threatening revolver in the hands of the fugitive delayed Eichle's pursuit. Then a shot was fired and Police Sergeant Thomas R. King and Police Chief Etter, both of Midland, joined in the chase which resulted in Fay's capture at the point of a revolver at Cook's Ferry. The police found $72 in cash, three watches, a diamond breastpin and other jewelry in Fay's possession.

ITS ALL GONE NOW.

Samuel L. Kramer, Box 95, Sellersville, Pa., writes: "I had kidney trouble for two years and had a terrible backache. That is all gone now after using Foley Kidney Pills and feel well again." When the kidneys are overworked, weak or diseased, the waste matter remains in the system and causes pains in side or back, rheumatism, lumbago, stiff joints, sore muscles, backache. Foley Kidney Pills get results quickly and are tonic in their healing and soothing effect. Good for bladder trouble, too. Bulker's Pharmacy, McCutcheon's Drug Store.

Akron, June 28.—If the plans of W. A. Johnson, head of the Rubber Products company, Barberton, are adopted, a 40 mile boulevard will be built as a memorial to the soldiers of Summit county who gave their lives in the world war. The estimated cost of the project is $7,000,000 and it will connect Akron, Cuyahoga Falls, Kenmore, Barberton and environs with a paved roadway 80 feet in width from curb to curb. In addition to the boulevard, the plan calls for the erection of residences all along the route and it is pointed out that it will be one of the most desirable residence sections in this part of the state.

CONGREGATION TO VOTE FOR PULPIT CANDIDATE

The congregation of the Second United Presbyterian church of East End will vote Sunday morning following the regular church service, to extend a call to a minister to fill the vacancy in the pastorate of the church, created by the resignation of Rev. J. G. Reaney, who is now in Altoona, Pa.

Since Rev. Reaney's departure from the city several weeks ago, the pulpit of the church has been occupied on Sundays by several visiting ministers and the congregation is to make its choice from these.

Members of the congregation may vote by proxy by placing the vote in an envelope or otherwise sealing it. The church announces, however, that proxy votes will be counted on the first ballot only.

Rev. W. R. McGrannahan of Pittsburgh is to occupy the pulpit Sunday morning and evening.

NEW DIAMOND THEATRE IS OPENED TODAY

The management of the New Diamond theatre have had the carpenters bricklayers and decorators busy for several weeks past remodeling and decorating the interior. A new screen has been installed and is now in such a position that front seat patrons can enjoy the pictures. This is a big improvement over the old screen and is sure to be appreciated by the picture loving public. A new organ costing $6,000 has been built under the stage and Mr. Goldstein, the manager, says that good music will be the rule rather than the exception. The interior decorations are beautiful and have involved the expenditure of a large amount of money. The biggest and best pictures will be shown as is evidenced by the offering for today. PEACE TREATY IS SIGNED

Thousands of persons in holiday attire gathered along the roads leading to Versailles. The streets, as usual, were heavily guarded by troops. Through packed lanes of humanity the delegations passed, one by one, their motors flaunting the flags of practically all nations except those which made up the central powers and the few neutrals not represented.

The arrival of each delegation was heralded by a trumpet. After being saluted the members were taken in charge by attendants and conducted to the places assigned for them.

Shortly before 3 o'clock motors left the palace in charge of the French military mission and went to the Hotel Reservoir. Here the German delegates were taken in charge and driven back to the palace where they waited in an ante room until the stroke of three when M. Marten, the master of ceremonies, directed that they be conducted to the Hall of Mirrors.

The German delegates were last to enter the hall. Following their entrance came the German correspondents who were conducted to seats in the rear of the press section.

Premier Clemenceau opened the ceremonies. The pen used to sign the documents was of gold, the gift of Alsace-Lorraine. It was made by an Alsatian soldier. On the holder was engraved the images of an Alsatian church tower, a bewhiskered polka and a flying arrow, inscribed, "June 28th, 1919."

Included in the distinguished guests section were the four war premiers of France who preceded Clemenceau—Viviani, Ribot, Briand and Poincaré. President Poincaré absented himself for constitutional reasons sending the seats reserved for himself to his former associates.

Immediately after the first signature was attached the wireless on Eiffel Tower flung the news to the world. It was picked up by every wireless station in Europe and salvos of artillery were fired at every allied fortification.

There was little of world-wide joy and exuberance evidenced by the men who sat around the peace table. In the past it has been customary to exchange felicitations with the enemy delegates. Nothing of the sort was apparent today.

It is generally accepted that the German national assembly will ratify the treaty in order that the nation may get back to a peace basis and endeavor to build up its economic life.

The weather, which for the past few days has been cold and raw moderated somewhat today but was overcast at noon and accompanied by a cold wind.

and peoples who are ready for independence, but not yet quite prepared to dispense with protection and guidance—shall be no more subjected to the domination and exploitation of a few nations, but shall be put under the friendly direction and afforded the helpful assistance of governments which undertake to be responsible to the opinion of mankind in the execution of their task by accepting the direction of the league of nations.

"It recognizes the inalienable rights of nationality; the rights of minorities and the sanctity of religious belief and practice. It lays the basis for conventions which shall free the commercial intercourse of the world from unjust and vexatious restrictions and for every sort of international co-operation that will serve to cleanse the life of the world and facilitate its common action in beneficent service of every kind."

"It furnishes guarantees such as were never given or ever contemplated before of the fair treatment of all who labor at the daily tasks of the world. It is for this reason that I have spoken of it as a great charter for a new order of affairs. There is ground for deep satisfaction, universal reassurance and confident hope."

GIRL KILLED BY STREET CAR

Milko Kekich, eight-year-old Serbian girl of Midland, was killed almost instantly Friday evening shortly after 8 o'clock when she was hit by an interurban trolley car in Midland avenue, Midland. The child was crossing the street and had just dodged from behind an automobile when she was caught by the front of the street car. A hole was torn in her chest over the heart and she suffered concussion of the brain. The motorman stopped the car before the wheels mangled the body. The child was still breathing when picked up but died before the arrival of Dr. E. W. Campbell. John Kekich, proprietor of a transfer business in Midland, is the father of the little victim.

LITHUANIA WANTS CAR

A new automobile market has been opened since America has lifted its embargo on trade with Lithuania, the Baltic republic which is seeking to reconstruct its affairs after the years of political and economic oppression which it has suffered at the hands of Germany and Russia.

Lithuania needs eight motor cars to form a means of communication between its 5,000,000 farmer population and its markets and centers of distribution. Much of Lithuania's 47,000 square miles of territory are used for farming, and for these farms motor trucks, tractors and road building machinery will be needed. Lithuania can pay for what it purchases. Easy access to it can be had through the ports of Libau and Memel.

To Make Them Real Americans

The Ringing Call in Secretary Lane's Americanization Bill Which Seeks to Cure the Grave Evils Latent in Illiteracy. Amazing Revelation of the Numbers That Live in Darkness.

By Clive Marshall

"What boots it to pass a pure food and drug act to protect the user against deleterious mixtures or an adulterated product when, as far as the illiterate person is concerned, the package may read: 'Poison, filled with the most pernicious of preservatives.' He cannot read it."

THUS strikingly, in a hearing before the committee on education, of the House of Representatives, at Washington, Herbert Kaufman, special assistant to Secretary Lane of the department of the interior, accented one of the many points in favor of the Smith-Bankhead bill for the extension of national aid in the education of illiterates in America. This bill was prepared at the suggestion of Secretary Lane. It was introduced in the Sixty-fifth Congress by Senator Hoke Smith and Representative Bankhead, perished with the calendar at final adjournment, and is to furnish one of the important issues before the Sixty-sixth Congress.

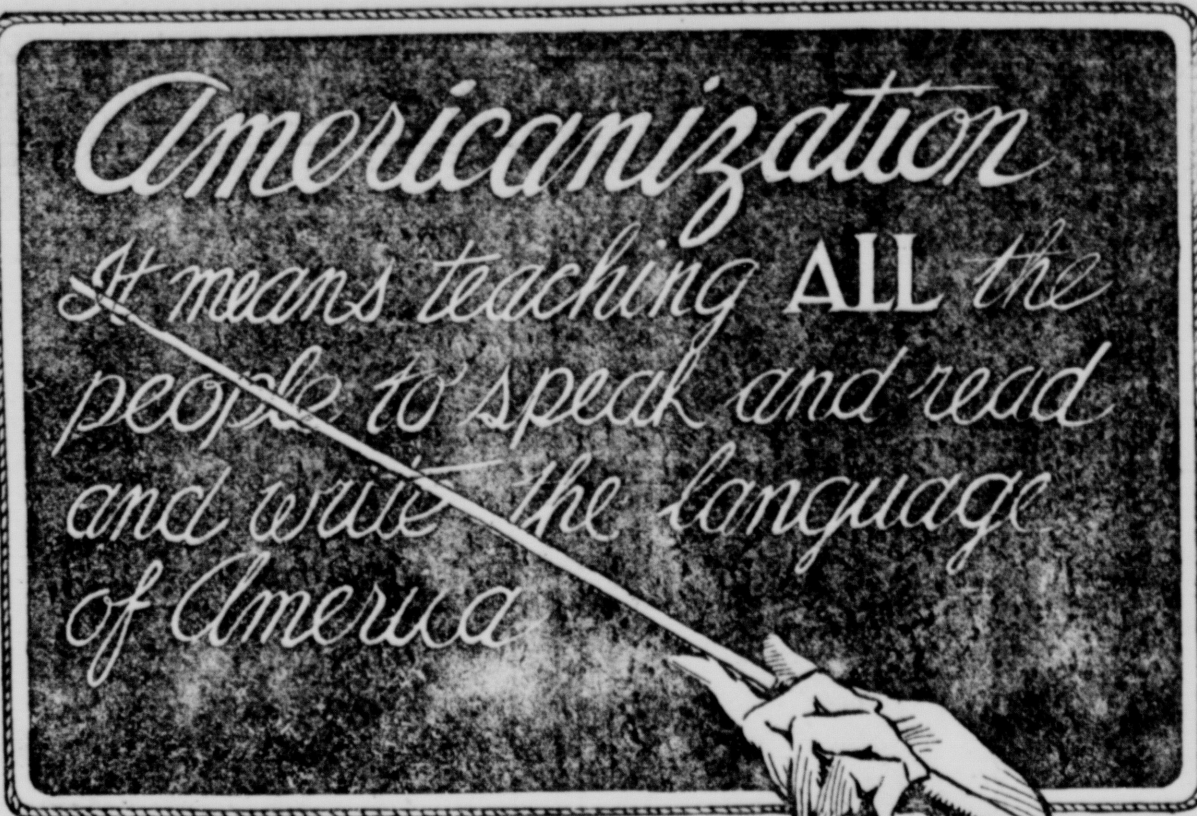

The Aims of "Americanization"

This measure is called in common terms an Americanization bill. Its provisions are expected directly to reach something like 8,000,000 of our population; its benefits will extend, when once it shall come into full operation, practically to our whole great national being, affecting society, industry, all progress and the daily life. The illiterates whom it will affect are more in number than the people of Canada. They exceed the combined populations of Nevada, Wyoming, Delaware, Arizona, Idaho, Mississippi, Vermont, Rhode Island, North Dakota, South Dakota, Oregon, Maine, Florida, Connecticut and Washington. It is startling, indeed, to think of such masses of people living in intimate touch with the affairs of the country, doing the country's work, helping to a degree to control its destinies, and unable to read its simplest laws.

The Call for Action

The necessity for some action to remedy the ills of illiteracy is amply clear. Under our form of government, the nation is bound to proceed with the work only in co-operation with the states. Sovereign Uncle Sam, in the measure promoted by Secretary Lane, proposes to join hands and match appropriations with such of the sovereign commonwealths as shall respond to his invitation. And his guarantee of good faith will be an initial appropriation of $5,000,000, for the current fiscal year, with $12,500,000 coming annually hereafter, up to the fiscal year 1926, with additional sums, first of $250,000 and then of $750,000 annually, for co-operative work in the preparation of teachers, supervisors, directors of education, etc.

Of our foreign-born helpers in industry, it is calculated that steel and iron manufacturers employ 58 per cent.; the slaughtering and meat-packing trades, 61 per cent.; bituminous coal mining, 62 per cent.; the silk and dye trade, 34 per cent.; glass-making enterprises, 38 per cent.; woolen mills, 62 per cent.; cotton factories, 69 per cent.; the clothing business, 72 per cent.; boot and shoe manufacturers, 27 per cent.; leather tanners, 57 per cent.; furniture factories, 59 per cent.; glove manufacturers, 33 per cent.; cigar and tobacco trades, 33 per cent.; oil refineries, 67 per cent.; and sugar refineries, 85 per cent.

One-quarter of the above workers cannot even read or write their own language. It is proposed under the Smith-Bankhead bill to secure to these and other illiterates "education in the English language, the fundamental principles of government and citizenship; the elements of knowledge pertaining to self-support and home-making and in such other work as will assist in preparing such illiterates and foreign-born persons for successful living and intelligent American citizenship."

Education under this measure is to fall to persons 16 years old or more. Participating states must, in addition to matching each its share of the national appropriation, provide for "the instruction for not less than 200 hours per annum of all illiterate minors or minors unable to speak, read, or write the English language, more than 16 years of age, at schools or places or by other methods of elementary instruction, until such minors have completed a course of English generally equivalent to that supplied by third-grade schools."

The Need Is Country-Wide

It becomes, in view of the co-operative feature of the scheme, greatly important that the scope and purpose of the plan shall receive a country-wide appreciation. There is no corner of the Republic which has not its own illiterate in this Americanization enterprise.

Speaking for the bill last February, before the House committee, Secretary Lane called attention to the fact that while we are spending, nationally, millions of dollars in treating diseases that attack the animals of this country, we are spending approximately but $200,000 a year on the whole subject of education through the bureau of education.

"Our neglect in these matters," he continued, "was brought out during the war. Then they discovered that we had drafted into our army a large number of men—I do not dare to say what the percentage is—a large number of men, hundreds of thousands of men who could not read or write, who did not understand the orders that were given them, who had to be given an elementary education, a primary education, not in reading of the language and in writing English, but in understanding English. If we could have been given a few hundred thousand dollars for the education of those people, that humiliation would not have been suffered by the United States."

"Now, just fancy this picture: A drill ser-

"The war was mostly fought for this class of people. Theirs is the larger share of victory; their share is greatest in the guarantee of a secure democracy because they have the farthest to go to realize it, and if we are to prorate their share of the victory and prorate its cost, we have expended over one billion and a half dollars to keep the door of opportunity safe for them and to keep the road leading to it clear, and this is merely a bill to give them a key with which to open the door to greater opportunity."

—Herbert Kaufman before the Committee of the House.

geant at Camp Meade standing in front of a squad of men conscripted into the army of the United States and teaching them the meaning of the word 'forward'; teaching them the meaning of the word 'halt'; and that was the picture that was presented in every camp in the United States. That was a most humiliating picture. We spent millions of dollars in presenting to the country the reasons why we were at war, and more than 10 per cent. of the money that was spent was spent fruitlessly, because the people who got the literature, who got the speeches, who got the appeals, could not understand one word that was written. We have to vocalize through some foreign paper, some paper printed in a foreign language, or through some padrone, or some man who can interpret for Uncle Sam to his own people.

"I Cannot Understand"

"When I left home this morning my little girl said that it was Valentine's day, and that she had just received a valentine. Now, I want to present to you a valentine: Here is a picture of Uncle Sam shouting through a megaphone to the people of the United States in a time of war, 'Forward march,' and here are 10 per cent., perhaps less, perhaps 5 per cent., of these people in this great army that is lined up, who have the hand up to the ear like that (indicating) and saying, 'We can not hear you.' Now, that is the exact condition that existed at the beginning of this war. Here was Hoover shouting to the people of the United States, 'Stop eating wheat'; and here were the people looking up at him with gaping mouth and saying, 'We do not understand what you say.' Here was the President explaining in eloquent way what the significance was of this draft that was made upon these boys, and the boy was saying, 'I cannot understand.'"

Thorough understanding is one way, it is urged, by which money spent on Americanization will come back to us. But there are ways more direct, in an economic sense, by which it will return. To quote Mr. Lane again:

"You can figure this thing in a hundred different ways, as to the economy of giving these people an education. More than 50 per cent. of the men in many of our largest industries are of foreign birth. If you increase the ability of a man he is entitled to a better wage, because he produces more. I have figured that if you increase the ability of these men by teaching them the English language, what the 'no smoking' sign means, what the 'turn to the right' sign means, what the 'warning' sign means, saving their hands and their arms and their legs, saving them from accidents; teaching them enough to enable them to read a printed plat of directions, as to what to do in their industries—if you should, by this means, be able to increase by 50 cents a day the wages of the men who are engaged in industry who cannot understand the English language when spoken, or when written, you would be able to develop a fund for the United States of approximately $2,000,000,000 a year."

In addition to a profitable new efficiency in industry, too, to be acquired through the banishment of illiteracy, there will be incalculable gain in the solving of labor situations when it shall come to pass that, all through the works, man shall understand fellow-man and employer and employer enjoy a mutual comprehension in words and ideas.

Mr. Kaufman, who was quoted briefly at the beginning of this article, pursued in his further

Secretary Lane's "Strong Statement" in Naming a National Need

There has been a very considerable lethargy on the part of the Federal Government with regard to matters of education. We do not treat the boy and the girl or the man and the woman of the United States with the same consideration that we do the hog and the cow. Now, that is rather a strong statement, but we are spending hundreds of thousands of dollars a year, millions of dollars in treating the diseases that attack the animals of this country, and we are spending approximately $200,000 a year on the whole subject of education through the Bureau of Education.

hearing the economic arguments brought forward by Secretary Lane. The handicap of the uneducated he had found not only in the forces for war, but in all lines of public enterprise calling for masses of men. The venture contemplated by the bill in hand, he was sure, would "save us, by every national dollar that is invested in this work, at least $10 that will have to be expended by various national departments themselves as they meet with such phases (of economically inferior labor)."

Herbert Kaufman's Plea

"This law," said Mr. Kaufman, "is really a law to validate the estate of 8,000,000 Americans and potential Americans in all the facilities, in all the instruments of progress in the United States. When you build a postoffice, you build a share of it for them; when you build a congressional library you build a share of it for them; every forward movement, and every institution to advance democracy and to uplift men, predicate their pro rata use of it; and we have hundreds of millions of dollars invested for them of which they are unaware and to which they can not take title until we certify their title by making them literate and aware of it."

"If this act will validate and bring to use hundreds of millions of dollars worth of national facilities for each of us, the education of these 8,000,000 will lower the national overhead on every product which they learn to utilize. For example, today those people are not potential customers for any of the forms of merchandise which are sold through advertising. They are not customers for any publishers; they are not customers for the magazines, for the newspapers, for any product of the printing trades. They can not even read a moving-picture title."

"The elimination of illiteracy also means the gradual elimination of falsified merchandise and the reduction, the practical elimination of cheating manufacturers and retailers who rely mainly upon illiterate customers for their support. We passed the pure food and drug act for these people as well as for our literates, but for them it does not exist. Thus, most of the greatest benefits which our democracy has conferred upon its people are lost to these. If ignorance reduces potential earning capacity by a minimum of $5 a week, as compared with that of a literate, this bill is almost a validation of our promise of betterments, of haven, of opportunity, because it translates it into terms of humanity and of protection."

Americanization and Health

There are sanitary and hygiene arguments behind the bill under review, too. Dr. Frankel, head of the National Health Association, told Mr. Kaufman that the association's work, "the work of raising the health average of the country, will be advanced not 10 per cent., but far beyond that ratio if some means is afforded, means that do not now exist, of reaching these people and bringing them to an appreciation of the values of sanitary surroundings and self-protection. This is the area which affords them the greatest amount of difficulty in carrying on their program. It is the source of most of health menaces with which we are dealing, because, living in ignorance, they live in a very, very benighted state. They do not know, they do not understand, they are medieval in their habits and in their practices, and this bill validates their estate, their health estate."

So far in this article, the dealing has been with the Smith-Bankhead bill in so far as it relates to the foreign-born. The measure is drawn, however, so as to cover the interests of the native illiterate. In this phase the problem of education reaches, Secretary Lane tells us, "people who are in the United States and have been in the United States for generations. . . . Those are people who vote, and yet they cannot read or write. Is not that a matter of national concern?"

The secretary feels that the country is absolutely behind his bill. This confidence he gathers from the reading of many hundreds of newspaper clippings which have come before him. And certainly some assurance seems justified when editorial endorsements come with equal heartiness from Massachusetts and California, New York and Florida, Michigan and Texas.

Some Startling Facts Every American Should Consider

The number of illiterates in the United States is estimated at EIGHT MILLIONS—a number equal to the combined populations of Nevada, Wyoming, Delaware, Arizona, Idaho, Mississippi, Vermont, Rhode Island, North Dakota, South Dakota, Oregon, Maine, Florida, Connecticut and Washington.

In certain American industries as high as 85 per cent. of foreign-born helpers are employed. One-quarter of these can not read or write their own language.

In men drafted for the war hundreds of thousands could not read or write.

Over 17 per cent. of the persons in the east-south Central States have never been to school.

Approximately 16 per cent. of the people of Passaic, N. J., must deal with their fellow workers or employers through interpreters.

The non-English speaking races in the anthracite region are shown to be twice as liable to death or injury as the English speaking workers.

If the labor of an illiterate is worth $5 a week less than that of a man who can read, then the teaching of the 8,000,000 would yield the nation $2,000,000,000 annually in excess of its present earnings—enough to pay the interest on the war debt.

Jess Invents "Neck Chopper" And Vouches For Its Effectiveness.

WHO'LL LAND FIRST?

Jack Has The "Rib-Tickler" Designed To Cure All Cases of Insomnia.

By FRANK G. MENKE.

Toledo, June 28.—The noble athletes who will perform fistic feats for a multitude on July 4th are devoting the waning hours of training camp days to perfecting new wallops.

J. Willard, possessor of the crown which J. Dempsey covets with a lot of covetousness, is exhibiting daily to the ho! polloi a new crasher which he terms "the neck chopper." It is the hope of J. Willard that by use of this pugilistic sealer he will be able to clout all the battle free out of J.
Dempsey in two or three clouts.

In rebuttal, J. Dempsey is showing something new which is termed a "rib tickler," and which is designed to lead up against the casting of J. Willard's heart hard enough to render the said J. Willard prone long enough for a stammerer to tell out an understandable count of ten.

A neck punch is something novel in modern ring affairs—but it was a favorite in ye olden days when the boys knew naught of padded mitts and wielded nothing but "maulies." But since the era when gloves came into vogue, thus making bigger the wedge that a man had to stick against the throat of an opponent, neck punches have been quite passe.

But Willard is going to bring them into style again—with a few new frills attached.

No so long ago when J. Willard got the actual data on J. Dempsey's size and learned of that low down crouch, J. Willard probably concluded that belting J. Dempsey upon the lowered chin with frequency and vigor would be a task rather difficult of frequent accomplishment. So J. Willard used his thinking regalia—and the result is the neck punch.

J. Dempsey's usual custom is to sail in with lowered head. He exhibits nothing hittable but the ramming part of his dome and a bent neck. And the bent neck is what J. Willard plans to swat with reckless abandon but remarkable precision. Some one has tipped him to the fact that if a few hard smashes collide with the back of a neck—even if it's the neck of a great fighter—it will do a lot toward curing that person of insomnia.

J. Willard nurses just such a hope —and goes on perfecting the neck chopper.

Not so long ago J. Dempsey heard that J. Willard had a weakness.

"He doesn't like 'em around the heart," said the informant of J.
Dempsey.

"Oh, ho, oh, ho," exclaimed the enlightened mauler from the salty regions of Utah. "He don't, hey? Well, well, well."

And ever since then J. Dempsey, who earlier spurned the practice of clubbing a gentlemanly foe in the heart region has changed tactics—at least with his sparring partners. Instead of just slugging away at their dark-hued tummies, J. Dempsey every so often "crosses" them with a right hook that seems to be on its way to the stomach but suddenly shifts and plunks with great force against the left ribs of J. Dempsey's dusky playmates.

Both of them right now will in-ferre the world that every time that punch—even though Dempsey declares he is only tapping with it—lands around their blood pumping apparatus, the faithful old pumpers go on temporary strikes.

"If that Jess Willard just gets one of those what's got all of Jack's steam in it—good night Mistah Willard," predicts Bill Tate, the Goliath, who took a lay-off Friday because Dempsey teased him twice with "the rib tickler" the day before.

In retort, Walter Monahan, official bugler of J. Willard's virtues, says:
"If Jess lands just one of his neck punches on Dempsey—good night Mister Dempsey."

Therefore, one is to assume that the first gent that lands the new wallop will win.

Who'll it be?

Wanted—Perfect Man.

Altos, Pa.—Two young Wilkes-Barre school teachers commissioned Mayor Charles E. Rhodes to find them two "perfect men"—socially, morally and financially—but he is still searching. "There may be some," the mayor said, "but evidently they are all married."

ENTRY BLANKS OUT
FOR JULY 19 RACES

Uniontown, Pa., June 28.—Entry blanks for the automobile races at the Uniontown Speedway July 19, in connection with the welcome home celebration for the city's returned soldiers, are out. Inquiries from the drivers who raced at Indianapolis in the big Memorial Day event, at New York on June 14 and who are entered in the New York races on July 4, indicate that practically the entire string of drivers will be here for the July 19 meet at which the mid-summer championships will be decided.

Word reaching the Uniontown management from New York is that Tommy Milton, winner of the Universal trophy race at the season's inaugural here on May 19 is keen for the Uniontown race for he is hoping to do what no other driver has ever done before, win all events on a single speedway during the season. Piloting his new eight cylinder Duesenberg at the New York meet, he demonstrated wonderful speed and many observers have declared that he has the fastest car ever developed, despite the fact that another driver carried off the premier head Bay. Milton was winner of one of the New York events and showed a speed of 116 miles an hour.

BOXING MATCH
AT WHEELING

Wheeling, June 28.—The second of a series of boxing exhibitions to be staged by the Wheeling Athletic association will be held at Wheeling park on the afternoon of July 4, with Walter Stewart and Patsy Scanlon of Pittsburg hooked up for ten rounds.

The local association is trying to arrange another good bout between two Pittsburgh boys, and expects to hear from them today. On July 16
Harry Greb, the famous Pittsburgh boxer, and the most favored fighter in this city, will come here. The Wheeling officials are trying to arrange with George Chip to come here as Greb's opponent. If such is the case, the best boxing bout ever put on in the city will be the outcome.

Patsy Scanlon, who will meet
"Goo" Stewart here next week, is well known to followers of the fighting game here. He has met all the best boys in the game and has never been beaten by any of them. Recently he met and defeated Dick Loadman, one of the best men in the game today.
Nothing needs to be said of "Goo" Stewart, the pride of Wheeling. This youngster assures the fans that a good bout will be the outcome, as he has never been known to stall and always carries the fight to his opponent. The men will weigh in at 125 pounds.

$230,000,000 in Bonuses.
London—War bonuses paid to postal servants totaled more than $70-000,000 a year during the European conflict, according to figures just tabulated. The total for the four years was $230,000,000.

WEIGHTS OF JACK AND JESS NOW INDICATE LITTLE

Jess Willard, on left, and Jack Dempsey weighing at their camps after workout. Man with Dempsey is his trainer, Jimmy De Forest.

The recent announcement from Jack Dempsey's camp that he weighed 201 pounds was the basis for considerable comment at the time. Coupled with the report at the same time that Willard weighed under 250 pounds it caused the bigs to believe that Dempsey wouldn't be handicapped so much after all in weight. But Dempsey's weight was taken after he had been idle a week while humoring a cut over his eye. Willard's weight, taken after a workout, caught him at his best. He takes on a couple of pounds over night. The weight of the men when they meet cannot be estimated from these figures.

TENDER THORPE
OLD JOB AGAIN

Canton, June 28.—Jim Thorpe, renowned Indian athlete who was instro-mental in bringing to Canton professional football honors in 1916-17, may again be in complete charge of the famous Canton Bulldogs when they start the season at League park.

The ex-Carlisle and Olympic star has let the fact be known he wouldn't consider any proposal which did not give him entire control in the matter of assembling players. It is understood that he already has at least a quartet of stars ready to come to Canton.

Thorpe has said that he thinks there is another season of football in his system. With the wonderful athlete so disposed the statement can not be disputed that he will make a "lawless" leader. During the season of 1916-17 Thorpe was the target for every team and he was battered up more than in other years of football but Dad Time has made the Indian one of his chosen people, a fact that is substantiated by glancing at the splendid record record Thorpe is making in baseball since going from the New York Giants to the Braves of Boston in the National league.

TAGGING THE BASES

The Yanks went ahead standing still. While they were kept idle by rain the White Sox and Indians were beaten.

Jim Bagby took his bumps in two innings at Detroit when the Tigers bunched hits in two innings. Dausa held the Indians safe.

Mann's double followed a base on balls to Flack and a sacrifice by Pick.
So the Cubs beat the Cards.

Bill Bolden, a recruit pitcher from the Lincoln Memorial college of Tennessee, made his debut as a pitcher with the Cards.

Getting two singles, a double and a triple was not enough to satisfy Eddie Rousch.

In addition Eddie robbed Casey Stengel of a home run. The Reds won easily.

The Browns and White Sox made nine hits off Cicotte and Weiland, but the Browns bunched their hits, which made it tough for Cicotte.

Johnny Jones, former Great Lakes infielder, reported today to Manager Huggins of the Yanks.

DEATH CLAIM PAID MOTHER

Efforts started in the headquarters of the Hancock county Red Cross, to aid the mother of a deceased soldier to obtain his insurance money, have resulted in the war risk insurance bureau at Washington announcing a change in its rules for payment of death claims that will benefit bereaved relatives all over the United States.

About a year ago as a Hancock county boy lay on his death bed in an army hospital, he applied for and was granted soldier's insurance. Upon his death, claim was made of the war risk insurance bureau for his insurance. It was denied, the bureau holding that inasmuch as the soldier had not paid any premium on the insurance it could not be paid.

Miss Florence Moss, secretary of the Red Cross in Hancock county, related the case before a conference of Potomac division Red Cross workers at Morgantown several weeks ago. The case was taken to national headquarters of the Red Cross, and shortly afterward the bureau announced it would honor such claims hereafter. The mother of the boy, investigation of whose case resulted in the change in the ruling, is now to receive $700 overdue payments on the insurance policy and in the future will receive about $67 each month.

TRANSFER OF POWER BUSINESS TO BE MADE

Transfer of the domestic and industrial electrical power business of the Newell Water & Power company of Newell, to the Hancock County Electric company, subsidiary of the West Penn Power company, was to be accomplished Saturday.

Next statements for electricity consumed will be sent out by the Hancock County Electric company. Because the new company has been granted uniform rates for furnishing power wherever it operates in West Virginia and already has those rates in effect elsewhere, it was not necessary for the company to apply to the state for permission to establish rates in Newell.

WAVE OF JUVENILE CRIME.

Columbus, June 23.—Franklin county is being swept by a wave of juvenile crime which has been confined mostly to the robbing of summer cottages of fishing tackle and hunting outfits, as well as other forms of sporting goods. The authorities have succeeded in rounding up a number of young thieves who have confessed to certain thefts and some of the stolen articles have been recovered. At a summer cottage near Worthington some boys took enough of the furnishings to start a camp of their own. They were found enjoying their camp when the sheriff and deputies called.
